

PRESS RELEASE
29th June 2016

AUSY enriches its portfolio of certifications by successfully completing the ISO 27001(*) audit

The AUSY Group is the first engineering consulting firm in Advanced Technologies to have this portfolio of certifications (ISO 9001, EN 9100 and ISO 27001), thereby becoming the most trusted partner in this market for its clients

The AUSY group is pleased to announce the successful completion of the ISO 27001 audit at the end of May 2016. This certification covers AUSY's Information Systems and its Expertise and Delivery Centres activities in France as well as the protection of its clients' data and the security of their software development. With regards to the latter, the Group ensures that its clients' software is tested for security risks by using internal tools such as market solutions supported by its partners.

AUSY is also ISO 9001- and EN 9100-certified, making the Group a trusted partner for clients in the banking, insurance, aerospace, telecommunications, transportation, health or energy sectors.

In June, AUSY aims to renew its CMMI level 3 () certification for its work package activities, thereby becoming the only French engineering consulting firm able to offer its clients this level of quality in developing work packages.

These certifications are the result of daily efforts from all employees committed to improving quality standards. They reflect the Group Executive Management Board's desire to constantly strive for excellence.
